My Mother's name is Candy Cowings. She deserves to be the Mother of the Year because my mother is lovable. When my sisters and I are sad, mad, or crying, she gives us all of love in the world.

My mom is smart and unselfish because she makes sure that her bills are paid on time and makes sure her taxes are done ahead of time.

My mom is unselfish because she makes sure the kids are taken care of before she takes care of her own self. My mom is strong because at work there can be 1,000 problems that she has to deal with, and she still comes home to clean the house and cook dinner. Then she goes to college and comes back home from school. Then she gets me and my sisters ready for school.

My mom is my hero because she is a hard worker, a great wife, and the best mother ever. The other reason she is my hero is because she can do many things and she will show her positive side all the time.

I would love to have my mom win because of all of the hard work that she has done for family, friends, and her co-workers. My mom is my Hero.

Why my mommy should be considered for mommy of the year. She has had two back surgeries in the last year and a half. They put these big ugly screws in her lower back that didn't seem to help at all. So a year and ½ later she had to have them taken out because when she would lay down in bed it felt like she was laying on my marbels. But, through all of this she always seems to put me and my dad & dog first. She always makes time to take me to the park, movies, waterpark, soccer, basketball and everything and even though shes always in pain she stands on the sideline and doesn't complain. She even takes my dog to the park for excersie everyday. She also volunteers at my school 2 days a week and helps my teachers a lot. After I get out of school we come home and she has to lay down and rest a little but then she'll get up and make diner for me and my dad and she helps me with my homework everyday. Every night when we lay down she reads to me before I go to sleep. For all that my mommy does for me, my dad and my dog she's mommy of the year. The end.
